

Exhibition of tupera tupera's Picture Book World for You, Me, and Everyone

©tupera tupera

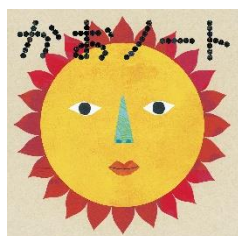

tupera tupera is an artist group created by Tatsuya Kameyama and Atsuko Nakazawa. After forming their group, they have focused on fabric accessories, picture books, and illustrations. Recently, they have been expanding their horizons with new challenges such as creating set design pieces and art directing.

This year they are approaching their 15th anniversary ever since their founding in 2002.

This exhibit will feature tupera tupera's accumulated experience through a display of original picture book art, fabric accessories, handmade toys, and more.

The name of this exhibition contains tupera tupera's belief in their works. They believe that connections with people will bring about something new.

Please take the time to visit the unique and novel world of tupera tupera.

Make Faces

(KOKUYO, 2008)

Panda Sento

(EHONKAN, 2013)

Polar Bear's Underwear

(Bronze Publishing Inc., 2012)

September 9, 2017 (Sat) – November 5, 2017 (Sun)

*The exhibit admission fee will be free to the public on November 3 (Fri).

Please check the museum schedule for hours of operation.

The museum will be closed on October 2 (Mon).

Admission:

¥900 (720) General Admission

¥700 (560) for high school and university students, and seniors 65+

FREE for middle school students and below

*Pricing inside () is for groups of 20 or more people.

*Free for high school students living in Yokosuka or attending school in Yokosuka.

*Those who hold a Physically Disabled Certificate, Treatment Certificate, or a Mentally Disabled Benefits Certificate and one escort are eligible for free admission.

*Presale tickets will be available at the Yokosuka Art Museum counter and the Yokosuka Arts Theatre Ticket Center (Yokosuka Arts Theatre 1F, More's City 1F Yokosuka-chuo Station).